Annelie Becher is a registered psychologist, trainer and author who specialize in helping dogs and their owners get along better.

Want to make sure your dog is truly happy?

Want to start communicating with your dog on a deeper level?

Want to help you dog overcome problems like fears and phobias, depression, trauma or compulsive behaviour like licking and tail biting?

Want to become a better master, or teacher, for your dog?

Annelie can help!

Her unique understanding of both the human and dog psyches enables her to get to the core of a problem and deal with it ... instead of just trying to treat, or hide, a problem's symptoms as so many professionals do today.

Annelie is a highly skilled EFT (Emotional Freedom Techniques) practitioner for both humans and animals.

She is trained in several Energy Psychology methods and has trainer status in two of them and which she has adapted to treat dogs, horses and other animals.

She has also created her own True Companionship Method (TM) which corrects dogs' behaviour problems while also helping dogs' owners feel less overwhelmed, helpless and upset by their dogs' bad behaviours.

In addition, she offers treatments for dogs (and other animals) who are suffering from diseases like auto immune deficiency, allergies, arthritis, emotional problems and more.

Annelie holds the ACEP Diploma in Energy Psychology. She is an NMT expert and Reconnective Healing practitioner, both of which she can use on animals and people.

In addition to all that, Annelie has 30 years of experience in dog training both on a one-to-one basis and in groups. In fact, she used to be a Golden Retriever Breeder and Breed Advisor.

The bottom line is Annelie has the expertise and the experience to help you, your dog or both you and your dog.

She can help you start making better lifestyle choices for your canine, which will lead to you having a healthier, happier, more active and longer living pet.

Annelie provides in-person treatment via private sessions as well as remote treatment via phone or Skype, which provides customers and their pets with the ability to receive treatment without leaving home.
